MEMBER ADVISERS HAVE SAID...

"The MASSP Student Leadership Program is important because students see themselves empowered in what could occur at school. It provides students with leadership training, infusions of energy, and opportunities to grow in a positive and safe environment. The excitement and motivation gained continues back at school."

"For us, the MASSP Student Leadership Program has made us rely on prioritizing our lives and activities, develop new ideas for events; provide networking with other councils and advisers; motivates us to always do more by improving old activities and developing new ones; taught us icebreakers and mixers to help breakdown 'walls' between our members as well as members of other schools; kept us aware of what is going on in students lives; and, helps us train 'leaders' not just 'doers.'"

"I became an adviser two years ago... my principal enlightened me about MASSP Student Leadership. Our council had no concrete direction prior to this and I was very new. MASC/MAHS has helped me as an adviser with direction and unification. The conferences have provided me with new ideas and constant support."

PROGRAMS

New adviser workshops in the fall help acclimate all student-group advisers (student council, honor society, class moderators) to what the advisership entails - from legal issues to leadership curriculum

Training institutes for students are held in the fall throughout Michigan to prepare young leaders for the years ahead

A two-day advisers' conference in January provides idea sharing opportunities, state-wide networking and training on all aspects of teaching leadership

Award and recognition programs recognize school, council, chapter, adviser and student achievements

Spring regional conferences around the state provide a unique opportunity for students to develop high-quality presentations and share local best-practices

With over 1,000 student council and honor society students convening in one location, our state conference is full of networking, ideas, motivation and recognition

Newly-elected executive board officers receive special job-specific training at our May Executive Forum

Two residential summer camps, one for middle level students and one for high school students, offer an opportunity to explore personal and group leadership at a new level

Our state-wide charity program is an opportunity for schools to make a significant impact for one charitable organization each year
